

New ECM System for 2024 IPSC Matches

Important information - the ECM match registration system has been upgraded and relocated to a new global server. The upgrade is part of IPSC's move to an online global registration system allowing members to enter competitions internationally. Ultimately, regions will be able to confirm a competitor's IPSC status without having to go through the Regional Director.

The new link/address is: <https://portal.iroascoring.com/portal>

Members that were registered and used ECM prior to 1 August 2023 have had their details transferred to the new ECM.

The new ECM also allows for automatic update of members grades to remove the previous manual admin step and speed up entries. Members will also be able to add their own equipment types and locations at entry, to speed up match registration.

The previous ECM system (<https://ecm-aus.iroascoring.com/portal>) was only for Australian matches and will remain online for those matches still listed there.

Self-Squadding for matches via ECM

For matches in NSW.

When a match has reached the maximum number of competitors, you will still be able to self squad, provided the self-squad feature has been enabled for the match.

This will only be available until the match is closed, which is usually approx. 1 week prior to the start of the match.

No additional competitors will be able to enter the match.

If you missed out on a slot, and would like to attend the match, email nsw.sc@ipsc.org.au to be put on a waitlist.
